

Introduction to Sociology: Social Problems and Social Movements

SSS100.1857 (45042) Fall I 2019

Center 3, C-234; Tuesdays 9:15am – 11:30am and Thursdays 10:30am – 11:30am

Instructor: Lynne Turner (lturner@gradcenter.cuny.edu)

Office Hours: By appointment before or after class

Course Description:

Welcome to Sociology, the study of society! We will utilize a sociological perspective to understand hierarchies of class, race, gender, and sexuality and explore contemporary social problems including inequality, precarious work, migration, relations of power and social control. Sociologist C. Wright Mills posited that sociological imagination rests on the understanding that “neither the life of an individual nor the history of a society can be understood without understanding both.” We will consider the relationship between “personal troubles” and “public issues” as we delve into the social, political, economic and historical contexts that shape outcomes. Together we will apply sociological imagination to augment our understanding of historical and contemporary issues and events. Ongoing examination of how people have utilized power from below to build social movements and bring about social change will be integrated into our studies throughout the semester.

Course Readings:

- Many of the assigned texts are found in the following textbook: Social Theory: The Multicultural, Global, and Classic Readings. 6th Edition by Charles Lemert; ISBN: 978-0813350028. You are encouraged to acquire the book. The 5th and 4th editions are also okay. The 6th edition is available at the LaGuardia library.
- Required course readings are available in the “Readings” section on the course website at <http://cunyhumanitiesalliance.org/introsocfall19/readings/> or through links in the course syllabus.

Course Website: Our course website is <http://cunyhumanitiesalliance.org/introsocfall19/>. All information about the course including the syllabus, readings, assignments and other materials will be housed on this website. Weekly Reading Responses will be posted on the site. Respond to your email invitation and register for the site immediately following the first class and before September 12 class.

Course Requirements

Attendance and class participation are essential to your learning experience and the success of the class. Read the assigned texts prior to class and come prepared to summarize and discuss what you have read, and to participate actively in group discussions and in-class writing and activities. Bring assigned readings with you to class along with notes, comments and questions. Participation means contributing constructively based on your reading of the texts and your personal knowledge of the topic being discussed. You don’t have to always know the answers. A question can be as valuable as a statement and help clarify the material for others as well.

Show Up, Speak Up, Ask Questions and Share Your Ideas!

The following assignments are required:

1. After the first class, send me an e-mail message from your preferred email address. The subject line should read "Sociology 100.1857 and the body of the message should contain your name and e-mail address. I'll add all addresses from which I receive e-mail to my address book. If you do not respond you will not get on the class e-mail list. Since I will send periodic updates by email it is important to get on the list. Use this email address to register for the course website.
2. Weekly reading responses (WRR) consisting of one of the following: 1) A quote you select from the reading that you believe best captures its message. 2) A current news article you find that is related to the content of the assigned reading. 3) A multimedia source such as a video, website or other source related to the content of the assigned reading. Your responses are to be posted as replies to my prompt on our course website by 4:00pm of the Monday prior to our Tuesday morning class. You may miss up to three responses before it negatively impacts your grade. Weekly responses will be graded for completion and are worth 10% of your grade.
3. Short reflection essay #1 of 300 words due on September 25 based on course readings and your experience. Short essay #1 will be graded for completion and is worth 10% of your grade.
4. Short essay #2 of 450 words due on October 28 based upon an oral interview you conduct of a relative or somebody you know with experience related to a one of the course topics. Short essay #2 will be assigned a grade for quality and is worth 25% of your grade.
5. Final Project: Your final project will examine how a social movement organization addresses one of the social problems covered in class. Project research will be based upon course readings, class activities, discussion and prior assignments in addition to at least one independent reading and one multi-media source that you identify. Expectations for the project will be covered in class. The final project is worth 45% of your grade in total. Final Project Components include:
  - Topic statement (5%) – A one paragraph topic statement that identifies your chosen movement organization and describes how you will conduct your project research is due by class time on November 5. The statement will be graded for completion. If it is not handed in or handed in late it will negatively affect your project grade.
  - Class Presentation (15%) – You will present to class about your social movement on either December 3, December 5 or December 10. We will dedicate class time to discuss the presentations and pass around a sign-up sheet at least two weeks in advance. Each presentation will be five minutes long with time for questions. Feel free to be creative! Use power point or video clips, engage students in an activity, or anything else you think will make for an engaging presentation.
  - Final project essay (25%) – A three page, double spaced essay summarizing what you learned and providing your critical perspective on your movement is due on December 12. Your essay must include at least two substantive citations from course readings, one substantive citation from your independent reading, links to your multimedia sources and a bibliography of sources.

6. Opportunities for Extra Credit:

- Visit the Writing Center - For every visit to the Writing Center (B-200) where you work on something for this class, I will give you two points towards your final grade. The maximum number of visits is 3. The writing center provides a form indicating your visit that you turn in for the extra credit.
- Supplement your final project with field research: You will receive three points extra credit on your final project grade if you build in hands-on field research such as attending a meeting, rally or other event pertinent to your social movement. To receive the extra credit you must document your presence and report back on your experience.
- Visit to the Museum of the City of New York – The Museum of the City of New York has three exhibits on view through the Fall related to the theme of social movements. These are Activist New York: Passions and Causes of an In-Your-Face Kind of Town; City of Workers, City of Struggle: How Labor Movements Changed New York and Pride: Photographs of Stonewall and Beyond. Pick one of these exhibits and take pictures of five segments of the exhibit reflecting a topic that we cover in class. Make sure you are visible in one of the photos. Print out these pictures. Print out a sheet with the title and one sentence description of each of the five segments you photographed. Also include a one paragraph reflection about what you learned from the exhibit. Print out a cover sheet with your name, class, and section. Turn these in along with your museum ticket. This visit is worth three points towards your final grade.

Policies:

Academic Integrity: Do Not Plagiarize! I will know that you have done it. This course is taught in compliance with LaGuardia's Academic Integrity Policy found at https://library.laguardia.edu/wp-content/uploads/2019/01/academicintegritypolicy\_LibraryVersion.pdf. Plagiarism is turning in work that is not your own, whether in part or full. Students that submit plagiarized work or commit other acts of academic dishonesty will receive a failing grade and may face more serious penalties.

Attendance: You begin the semester with an “A” for attendance. Each unexcused absence results in a deduction of 0.5 points and each lateness or leaving early results in a deduction of 0.25 points from your final grade. If you have a legitimate reason for your absence, lateness or need to leave early, it must be provided to me in advance or immediately after the occurrence. Per campus policy, the maximum number of unexcused absences is limited to 15% of class hours.

Late Assignments: Unexcused late assignments will be lowered by 1/3 of a grade for each day that the assignment is due (therefore an “A” paper becomes an A- after one day, B+ after two days, etc.) Extensions will only be granted for valid reasons and with prior approval. It is your responsibility to request an extension before the deadline date. Assignments more than a week late will not be accepted.

Electronic Devices: Computers, tablets, phones or other electronic devices may be used only for class purposes. No phone calls, no texting, no e-mail, no web surfing, no games!

Resources:

LaGuardia Writing Center: The LaGuardia Writing Center in sunny B200 offers free professional tutoring on any aspect of any phase of any kind of writing. Tutoring is by appointment that you can make through My LaGuardia. More information about the writing center can be found at <http://www.laguardia.edu/Writing-Center/Home>

Accessibility Services: In coordination with the Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD), reasonable accommodations will be provided for qualified students with disabilities.
